

Drawing from Life's Journey

A free 10 session drawing class series for adults 55+

at the

St. George Library Center

5 Central Avenue

Staten Island, NY 10301

(718) 442-8560

Students will learn all the basics of drawing: line, shape, light & shade, perspective and composition. Each student will be asked to bring a treasured object that evokes a special memory for them. They will use it to do their final project; a still life drawing in charcoal. This series of classes will end with an exhibition of the student's artwork which will be open to all.

The workshop will be taught by Kathy Fieramosca, an art instructor at the Art Lab of Snug Harbor Cultural Center. Ms. Fieramosca is also a portrait and still life painter and is represented by Portraits Inc., Sewell Fine Portraiture and Gallery 71 in NYC.

Participants are expected to attend all classes
Pre-registration required

To register, you can may sign up by phone or in person.
Placement in the class will be determined by a lottery system.

The lottery will take place on Thursday, February 14 from 10:00 am to 11:00 am

Classes will take place on the following

Friday mornings from 10:30 am to 1:00 pm:

March: 1, 8, 15, 22, 29

April: 5, 12, 19, 26

May 3

Student Art Reception and Exhibition:

Saturday, May 18th, 2013, from 2:00 pm to 4:00 pm

 Fully accessible to persons using wheelchairs

This Lifetime Arts Program is supported by the Institute of Museum and Library Services, Westchester Library System, AARP Foundation, American Library Association, New York State Council of the Arts, and the Helen Andrus Benedict Foundation.

Lifetime Arts

New York Public Library
www.nypl.org

